DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-3 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC §101

2. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

The basis of this rejection is set forth in a two-prong test of:

- (1) whether the invention is within the technological arts; and
- (2) whether the invention produces a useful, concrete, and tangible result.

For a claimed invention to be statutory, the claimed invention must be within the technological arts. Mere ideas in the abstract (i.e., abstract idea, law of nature, natural phenomena) that do not apply, involve, use, or advance the technological arts fail to promote the "progress of science and the useful arts" (i.e., the physical sciences as opposed to social sciences, for example) and therefore are found to be non-statutory subject matter. For a process claim, the recited process must somehow apply, involve, use, or advance the technological arts.

In the present case, claims 1-3 only recite an abstract idea. The recited steps of establishing, causing to be delivered, selecting and updating does not apply, involve, use, or advance the technological arts since all of the recited steps can be performed in the mind of the user or by use of a pencil and paper. The term "serving a web page" as claimed, does not obviate this line of reasoning. These steps only constitute an idea of how provide a web page to a retailer. A computer need not be present to execute any of the steps. The steps may merely be given by hand (digital data) or orally.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1, lines 1-2, “method comprising serving” is improper syntax and not clear.

Claim 1, line 2, “serving a web page to a retailer” is not clear.

Claim 1, line 5, “the specification” lacks antecedent basis and is not clear.

Claim 1, line 6, “the retail itmes” lacks antecedent basis and is not clear in juxtaposition to the “multiple retail items” from line 4.

Claim 3, line 2, the terms “SKU” and “UPC” are not clear as to their meaning.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

6. Claims 1-3, as understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Holland et al., US 6,618,753.

Holland discloses, e.g. Fig. 8, a web page that may be provided to a retailer including a two dimensional grid of rows and columns. Having a product identified by a universal product code (UPC) has been inherent within the product Internet purchasing art.
